Delivery and returns Policy

DELIVERY

Most of our products are available for delivery within 7 - 10 working days except where large quantities are involved when a scheduled delivery timescale will be agreed with the client when confirming / placing an order. We will endeavour to meet our client's requirements where possible, but cannot give any guarantees due to production commitments at the time of placing an order.

RETURNS

Except for stock items - All our products are made to customer specifications which means they cannot be returned or exchanged unless proven faulty, damaged or not to specification.

None of the above conditions affect your statutory rights when goods are faulty or not as described or specified.

NOTE:

This is only an overview please see our Terms and Conditions for full details
